

Loladze's Mutiny

Texel Island, The Netherlands May 1945:

Nearly 3 weeks earlier, Cpt. Loladze led a mutiny of the Georgian members of the 882 Infantry Battalion known as the Koenigin Tamara Legion. In the still of night, they slayed nearly 400 of their German comrades while they slept. However, the German commander, Breitner escaped and brought nearly 2000 Sailors and Marines of the 163rd Marine Schuetzen Regiment to take back the island. These men equipped with an old Panzer MKIV have driven the Georgians across the island. Now as May winds down, Cpt. Loladze and 100 survivors find themselves hiding in an isolated village awaiting the landing of Allied Troops. But time is running out and Breitner, bent of revenge is driving on their final hiding place.

BOARD CONFIGURATION:

1a

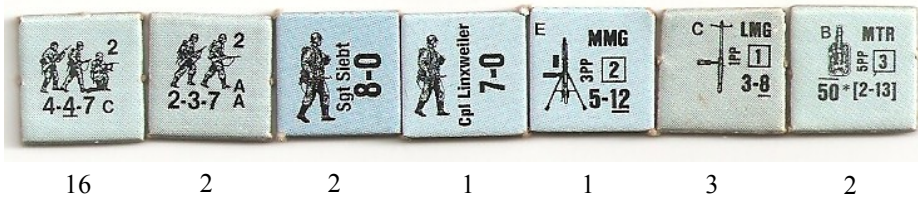

4a

VICTORY CONDITIONS: The Germans win immediately with the death or capture of Cpt. Loladze. Georgians win if Loladze exits per the special rules. Any other result is a draw.

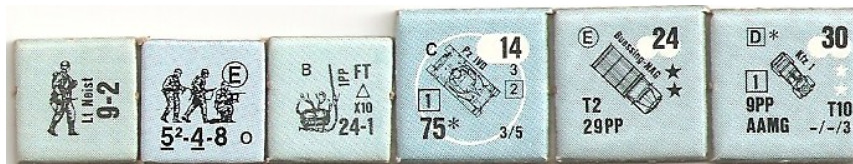

Georgians Setup First	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8
Germans Move First	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8

Elements of 163rd Marine Schuetzen Regiment (ELR 3) (Enter Turn 1 on the East Edge of Board 4a between Q5 and Q16.)

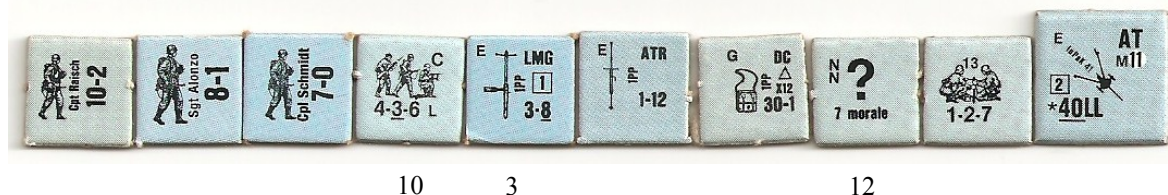

16      2      2      1      1      3      2

Hauptman Klaus Breitner & Marine Squad (Enter Turn 3 from Hex I1 on Board 4a)

Cpt. Loladze and Survivors of Koenigin Tamara Legion (ELR 3) (Set up East of Row J on Board 1a and West of Row I on Board 4a)

10      3      12

Special Rules:

1. Georgian AT sets up HIP
2. Beginning on Turn 6 Cpt. Loladze and any Squads with him may attempt to exit the board through Hex I20 on Board 1a.
3. Due to acute ammunition shortages the Georgians always cower even with officers present.
4. Due to acute ammunition shortages the Georgian AT Gun breaks on a roll of 10 or better and cannot be repaired.