The Last Ride of 007

August 8th, 1944, near Gaumesnil, France

On this fateful summer's day in 1944, Germany's celebrated tank ace, Michael Wittmann would ride out to do battle one last time. The Canadians and British had launched Operation Totalize and had taken Saint-Aignan-de-Cramesnil and were massing armor to continue the drive south. The Germans determined to strike first. Learning that less experienced Panzer Leaders had already moved forward, Wittmann jumped into Tiger 007 and lead 6 other tanks to support the attack.

The German Tigers charged across the open fields on either side of the N-158 Highway and into Valhalla.

BOARD CONFIGURATION:

VICTORY CONDITIONS: The Germans win immediately upon three or more Tiger 1's reaching Hex Row Y on Board 16.

English/Candadian (sets up first) German (Moves First)	1	2	3	4	5	1 a

Elements of the Schwere SS-Panzer-Abteilung 101 (ELR 4) (Set up in motion as directed below)

88L 3/5/2

16

Dollinger (16D5)

Kisters (16A6)

Hoeflinger (16B5)

Ihrion (16C5)

Wittmann (1aP5)

Westernhagen(1aO6)

Heurich (1aN6)

A Squadron 1st Northhampton Yeomanry (ELR 3) (Set up as directed below)

Setup HIP on Board T Hexes T1, U2, V1, V2

Setup Board 33 Orchard Hexes between Rows M-P

A Squadron Sherbrooke Fusiliers (ELR 3) (Set up as directed below)

Setup Board 6 between Rows P-X—may set up Hull Down behind stone wall.

10